CONGRATULATIONS.

The Montana-Tonopah Mining company has practically paid itself out of debt in the last eighteen months. Just a year and a half ago this company owed approximately $315,000, having undertaken a heavy obligation for the construction of its mill, and making improvements under ground so that the ore could be economically handled.

Managing Director Dunlap says that this indebtedness has been reduced until it is barely twenty thousand dollars—a sum that can be cleaned up within a few weeks. With this debt cleared away the Montana-Tonopah company is in complete ownership of perhaps the best 40-stamp mill in the state of Nevada, the stamps followed by complete cyanide and amalgamation process. It also has one of the best equipped mines in the state, and the proceeds that have been going toward paying off indebtedness will now go out as dividends. This announcement is somewhat of a blow to those interests that have been announcing from time to time that the Tonopah mines have about worked out their ore reserves, and "are going to shut down" and that they "cannot operate at a profit at the present price of silver," and so on. Tonopah is looking better all the time, and we congratulate our neighbor camp to the north over that fact.—Goldfield News.

A SENSIBLE BREAKFAST.

The staple, or what the French call the piece de resistance of a breakfast should consist of some form of meat, fish, egg or milk, or its equivalent in a starch or sugar, like bread, toast or cakes, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Woman's Home Companion for August. These may be supplemented by hot breads, gems or biscuits, with the proper modicum of fat in the shape of two or three pats of butter, sugar and the alkaline salts in the shape of some fruit or preserves or syrup upon cakes, and an accessory or appetizer in the form of tea, coffee or cocoa.

The so-called cereals and breakfast foods ought not to be made the mainstay of the breakfast. As accessories before or after, they are admissible and useful, but they lack seriously in steaming power, in proportion to their weight, bulk and power of satisfying the appetite.

MRS. HOLLIS PASSES AWAY AT OAKLAND

AN AGED PIONEER OF NYE COUNTY IS CALLED TO THAT GREAT BEYOND.

Mrs. R. E. Gilbert, assistant county treasurer, received word yesterday from Oakland, California, announcing the death of Mrs. J. B. Hollis, who died in that city on July 27. The lady was one of the pioneers of Nye county, having resided in Belmont for thirty years. She had been confined to her bed for the last eight months suffering from rheumatism and while the letter did not state the cause of her demise it is thought to have been old age. She is about 73 years of age and is survived by a son, Walter Hollis. The interment will take place in Oakland.

TO RECLAIM 60,000 ACRES.

The reclamation of over 60,000 acres of arid land in the Lovelock valley is to be undertaken by the Humboldt-Lovelock Irrigation, Light and Power company, which has filed articles of incorporation. The system will be one of huge reservoirs in which the waters from the surrounding mountains will be stored and distributed to the ranchers of the Lovelock valley. It is estimated that the cost of construction of the reservoirs will be $145,000, of which nearly one-half has already been subscribed by the ranchers in the valley.

R. R. COMMISSION NOTIFY RAILROADS TO REDUCE RATES

The railroad commission has notified the Southern Pacific that they believe that their entire schedule of rates upon intra-state freight within the state of Nevada upon the main line of the Central Pacific railroad is excessive, unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory and that they believe that all such class rates should be reduced 30 per cent and that the subject will be thoroughly investigated on August 17.

They have also notified the Nevada and California railway company that they have the same opinion of their rates and that they believe that they should be reduced 15 per cent and have set the same date for the railroad to appear and show why this action should not be taken.
